A Call To Public Service

One of the outstanding addresses before the recent conference of Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce at Winnipeg, which reference was made in this column last week, was delivered by President Beatty of the C.M.R. As was noted Mr. Beatty dealt largely with the subject of transportation, and in doing so traced the history of both the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National from their inception. He discussed the transportation problem from its broad national aspect and in a manner worthy of the position he occupies, frankly outlining past failures and indicating lines of action which will make for future growth and success.

When transportation history goes to be written in the history of Canada, Mr. Beatty, but he said, "it is not necessary to say that the Canadian of today have but a few railways; compare and contrast the Canadian of thirty and forty years ago." Before him that Canada, once a great expanse of territory with a much smaller and people per mile of railway than any other country, and consequently with less density and diversity of traffic, and, except for generally speaking, the lowest transportation rates in the world; the railways nevertheless had to be equipped to carry the traffic and provide the service which the people demanded and the interests of the Dominion made necessary. It is not possible to overstate the fact that the fact was that no change in improvement is possible without greater traffic, and that, more severe production and more severe consumption.

Mr. Beatty then came to the subject of the future. He constructively pointed out the need of all parts of Canada for a larger population, and to state that he considered that the future of the Dominion lies in the Canadian and that it was imperative both east and west. Continuing, Mr. Beatty said:

"My suggestion in respect to this much discussed question of immigration, I feel, should take it out of the domain of statistics and place it in the domain of human relation. The settler coming to us from overseas in search of a fortune is literally recruited by statistics presented in the form of letters, circulars, pamphlets, newspaper articles and what not, dealing with Canadian statistics. We are apt to forget that people coming to our shores are human beings, mothers, fathers, sons, daughters, and that they are themselves, from old homes, born in some cases centuries old, in other cases but a century, to be welcomed by us as immigrants and to be welcomed as citizens if they are worthy."

"More forthrightly," continued Mr. Beatty, "must be taken to secure the placing of the immigrants in advance of their arrival so that the little capital they bring with them may be fruitfully used, but may be devoted to the proper purpose and original intention. Now in that postulatory organization of operations, the means of the future are already a part of the present, and indeed in the present position they already are playing an important part. Already these hard conditions have been more or less equalized through the medium of the means of trade and these, during the past year, have been of marked assistance in securing positions, providing information as to available, labor, receiving and welcoming the new comers, and generally representing in the most efficient manner the three thousand immigrants. Now if that impulse were followed throughout the Dominion from coast to coast, the result would be a more or less method of immigration would be concerned for the result would be a more or less absorption of a large additional population with the least danger of conflict at all on our part."

In other words, Mr. Beatty clearly faces the creation of machinery, such as that of the new original Solid Settlement Board, and now being carried out by the Land Settlement Branch of the Department of Immigration and Colonization with respect to those families coming to Canada under the "Tillam" Empire of the Dominion. Such a system should be created to deal with all immigrants and not merely selected groups.

Mr. Beatty further contemplates that in the carrying out of such a plan, local bodies such as boards of trade and the many public service clubs should take an active part. It is not enough that an immigrant arrive and then be allowed to start for himself. An intelligent and active interest in his welfare and success is all important, and this friendly and helpful assistance must come from the whole community. What Mr. Beatty had to say on this point of the immigration problem is deserving of recitation and should be heard by all public bodies concerned in the problem. He said:

"Most important of all the results of such Dominion-wide co-operation would be the winning of the personal feeling of the immigrant and the immigrant. During such campaigns as that of the Patriotic League, the men and women who served on committees found that the education gained by their service of immigrants was a great deal more than the knowledge of their responsibility towards their fellow citizens. The education of public service, in my mind, the best education in the world. We talk a lot about national unity, but before we understand what it means, we must first understand that the most serious education is to the racial elements that form our nation, and such education is to be gained by personal contact with our fellow citizens of other races, and not by mere statistics. There is no such thing as a national unity except on the basis of the basis of community spirit."

Bavarian Sides Up-to-date

Electric black slides, similar to those used on railroads, have been installed in the principal toboggan slides in this winter resort in the Bavarian Alps.

Hot and steam baths, operated by waters along the slide, are being used to clarify the stoves at the top when to allow the most toboggan to start down.

A private telephone system, connecting stations along the line, has been installed in the resort.

"Do you know the number of the vehicle along the slide?" asked the police.

"Yes," replied the husband, "I strange coincidence the first two numbers formed my age and the second two the age of my wife."

"John," said the wife, "we will let the matter drop at once."

Corn Belt Moves North

Acres Now Devoted to Corn in Alberta is Now 70,000 Acres

The corn belt was definitely established in 1914, and now it is moving north. The Alberta Provincial Corn Growers' Association held its first province-wide corn show in Lethbridge, with more than 2,500 acres of well-matured corn on exhibit, coming from 61 individual exhibitors, covering territory from Medicine Hat to Lethbridge, north to the mountains, and south to the mountains.

Not only has the holding of this show, which was amazingly successful, brought the corn belt definitely into Alberta, but it has demonstrated the fact that in the feeding of stock from corn lies a great extent the solution of the problems that confront the board of prices at the corn show.

The average devoted to corn in the province of Alberta has increased from 1,000 in 1912 to 70,000 in 1925, and is believed to be the beginning of a great development in agriculture in Alberta.

GLEICHEN, ALBERTA, WEDNESDAY
THE OLD TIME CHRISTMAS
Yesterday and TO-DAY
Old timers caught in the holiday rush and gasp at the shop windows adorned with the wares that were often felt into a remnant of mood and re-live the Christmas of the long ago. Who does not fondly recall the magic of Christmas in his childhood?
Most of the presents were home-made. Perhaps grandma furnished mittens knitted by old hands after you had been tucked in bed—black and white mittens with a long cord that extended up through coat sleeves and around the neck to prevent loss. Auntie gave you a basket of Christmas cookies, shaped like animals and stars and covered with delicious colored sugar.
Uncle Bob gave you a watch, and his generosity appealed even if it was the old turnip that he had discarded. You can imagine the reaction you would get if you were giving a 1929 boy a second-hand timepiece.
Most of the presents were useful in the old days, including a reefer overcoat and a new pair of shoes. As for "boughten" presents, there were limited to "The Kris Train Boy," by Alger, Henry's "With Clive in India," a New Testament, and a pair of slates and the most wonderful of old time toys, a tin monkey that climbed a string.
At the Christmas of long ago represented proportionately as big an outfit as now, comparing apples in the old two periods.
But the gift itself was secondary to the spirit of the giver. So long as every generation can't help believing the Christmas dinners of those days were superior.
Christmas was entertainment at the church was as enjoyable as the modern movie. And the ride in the cutter over the deep snow beat the auto trip of 1929.
Christmas is always changing and (to adults) never for the better.

A good book is always a most acceptable gift. Two good books are just twice as acceptable. But a whole library of good books would surely be the best gift of all. The membership in the O. S. A. Extension Library costs only one dollar a year. It will bring to the home who receives it an avenue to a liberal education as well as many pleasurable hours in the long winter evenings. To you it brings the satisfaction of knowing that you have given that which will be used and appreciated for a whole year.
Not attractive membership offers, which entitle the holder to full rights and privileges in the Extension Library can now be obtained from the O. S. A. Books may be kept 50 days, at the end of which time they can be renewed for a further 50 weeks—six weeks in all.
Books are mailed to outsiders free of charge. There is no charge beyond the initial membership fee of $1.00.
Each member is entitled to borrow three books at a time. The library includes the best in fiction, history, travel, economics, philosophy, natural science, useful arts, mechanics, and general reference works. New books are being added every month.
Complete lists of the books are given to each member. Can you give a better gift?

Here and There
British Columbia's whaling industry produces about 400 tons of whale bone meal and 500 tons of blood for fertilizing purposes annually. This is exported mostly to the United States.
According to G. F. Tennett, superintendent of the Saskatchewan Branch of the Employment Service of Canada, about 45,000 harvest hands were brought into Saskatchewan and distributed over the province to harvest the wheat 1925 crop.
J. Stapleton, of Regina, ordered two pointer spaniel puppies from a dog agent in Liverpool on October 9th. Thirty days later they were delivered to him after a voyage and journey totalling 4,500 miles, the shipment going at the rate of 150 miles a day. This constitutes a record for speed.
Constituting a record for speed, and probably for the world, 2,447-124 loads of all grain were carried on the lines of the Canadian Pacific Railway in Western Canada on November 19. The nearest approach to this figure was the 1,446-000 bushels marketed on October 18, 1915, in the year of one of the greatest crops the Dominion has ever harvested.

Reports received at Canadian Pacific Railway headquarters this week show that four more accidents occurred in cases where motorists drove their cars into trains already in the bridge the total of accidents of this kind up to thirty for the year. In all four cases the motorists were damaged while the motorists escaped with minor injuries.
Eighty-seven black foxes, valued at about $100,000, shipped in 44 crates, arrived at Montreal last week from Buffalo. Twenty-five of the animals were prize-winners at the Black Fox Exhibition which concluded last week, and were on consignment to the Borestone Moushale, Fox Ranch at Otis, Maine.

WHAT DID YOU GIVE LAST CHRISTMAS?
Toys for the kiddies—most of them broken by now, "Something useful" for the grown-ups—now worn out or forgotten. Cash to your employees—appreciated but soon spent. Other presents—hurriedly bought and perhaps ill-chosen. Are they remembered now?

Suppose this year you give them each a Bank Book containing an initial deposit, and urge them to add to it regularly. Could anything be more suitable?

Add "Royal Bank Pass Book" to your list of Christmas gifts.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Staback, a daughter, at their home in Gleichen, on Monday, Dec. 14th.

Three public dances last Friday night and all made some money—the light fantastic is still a winner.

The past week or two Calgary has been crowded with Xmas shoppers from all over the country. Why?

N. T. Purcell is advertising Xmas goods and prices in this issue that should make you sit up and pay attention.

Walter H. Riddell left Monday to spend the winter months on the Pacific coast and will not return until spring.

With this continuous fine weather those who have left here for mild climates may well regret their departure.

Keep your eyes on the Xmas offerings in the Gleichen merchants are making in The Call. It pays to trade at home.

Elsewhere in this issue the Dominion Government gives a warning to users of radio to obtain their licenses immediately.

Farmers should now order the help they may require during next year. For particulars read the C. P. R. ad in this issue.

Mrs. C. B. Nyden returned last Saturday from a Calgary hospital where she was very ill, but is now improving satisfactorily.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Blinberg are happy in the arrival of another fine baby girl at their home in Gleichen, on Saturday morning, Dec. 12th.

The final Bakers boys are making every effort to make their Annual New Year's Dance the big event of the entire season, and preparing for a lucky success.

The Mademoiselle dance last Friday night was a wonderful success in every particular. A few more such dances would make the shareholders think the ball too small.

Monday was not so warm as the past few weeks and for a time it appeared some of the eastern stores were about to pay a visit to Sunny Southern Alberta, but by night the balmy chinook was in evidence once more.

And now all the world is depending upon Canadian wheat to keep from being hungry. And think of the millions of acres of wheat land we own that have never been broken. As we said before this is a wonderful country we are living in.

The Royallie No. 4, the rich well south-west of Calgary in the Turner field produced 18,300 barrels of naptha in the month of October. Altogether there have been shipped from the well over 70,000 barrels since June 1st.
